

Brand's Surgical Supply

Further Growth for the Collective Purchasing Project

In recent months Brand's Surgical Supply, in continuing consultation with the ADHA, has further developed the Collective Purchasing Project to increasingly assist Independent Hospitals and Day Surgeries in reducing running costs.

Our 30 years of sustained service to the Private Healthcare industry, and an established base of suppliers and customers with time-critical delivery requirements, have seen most ADHA members receive immediate savings when starting a relationship with Brand's Surgical Supply.

As further members of the ADHA join this project, the potential exists to form a group as large as any of the major corporate healthcare players, and collectively purchase at even higher volumes – meaning lower prices and higher savings for all members.

The ADHA will receive 1% of member sales (auditable to the satisfaction of the ADHA and its members), to fund continuing negotiations with the Government and Private Health Funds.

As our collective purchase price improves your purchase price improves too. Immediate savings are the first benefit, but the real potential of this project is what it can deliver in the future. Please contact me on (07) 3371 1754 to discuss the savings available to you.
